MANY WILL ENTER RACE. Half-Doxen Aspirants for Congressional Honors in Fifth District. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winston-Salem, N. C., March 15.—Numerous Democrats in this district are anxious to run for Congress next fall, and at this stage of the game it is not safe to say that there will be less than half a dozen aspirants in the race for the nomination when the convention convenes. Hon. C. B. Watson, of this city, seems to be the favorite just now, but on account of his health he is not inclined to tackle the job.

He is receiving many letters from friends urging him to do so, but he would accept the nomination, but up to this time he has not said that he could be induced to run. If he cannot be induced to run, the race will be left to J. C. Buxton, and Judge R. B. Jones are expected to be aspirants from Forsyth county, and from Spray, and other announced several months ago that "Barkis was willin' and anxious" for the nomination.

There is much speculation in political circles whether Congressman Morehead can be induced to accept a renomination.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY TO-DAY. Representative Brownlow Will Be Renominated for Congress. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bristol, Va., March 15.—The Republicans of the First Tennessee District will hold a primary to-morrow to nominate candidates for Congress, Circuit Court Judge, State's attorney, State Senator, etc., respectively.

View of the decision of Chancellor H. H. Haynes, who declined to enjoin the primary in response to the petition of State Senator Sells and others, Representative Walter P. Brownlow will be renominated without opposition in the primary, but it is understood that Senator Sells, who is opposing him, is going to carry his case before the people in the November election, alleging that to-morrow's primary will be illegal. It is said that the case will be appealed from Chancellor Haynes's decision to the Supreme Court of the State. It is hoped in this way to have the court pass upon the matter just prior to the November election. In the event that court should hold that the State primary election law was violated, Representative Brownlow would then find himself without a nomination in due legal form.

EX-MAYOR FALLS DEAD

Henry Zeigensheim, of St. Louis, Was Noted Character.

St. Louis, March 15.—Henry Zeigensheim, sixty-five years old, who, while Mayor of St. Louis, from 1897 to 1901, made the remark, "We got a moon yet, ain't it?" in refusing a petition that the streets be lighted, dropped dead in the street last night of apoplexy.

He was president of the Lafayette Bank. During his administration seven members of the Municipal Assembly took part in legislative transactions that afterward sent them to the penitentiary.

ARBON CASE GOES TO JURY. Either Acquittal or Minimal Expected. Aged Man Guilty of Manslaughter. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Elizabeth City, N. C., March 15.—The case of the State against L. H. Hopper and Mrs. Mary W. Gray, accused of arson, was finished in the Superior Court and went to the jury this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The jury is still out at midnight, and the general speculation is that the verdict will be acquittal or that the jury will fail to agree.

This is one of the most sensational cases tried here for some years, and large crowds have attended each session of the court. In the case of the State against L. H. Hopper and Mrs. Mary W. Gray, the connection by marriage of the defendants with a family of business prominence, Hopper married a sister of Mrs. Gray and had several children. Mrs. Gray's husband is a traveling salesman.

At the last term of spring court the case against Mrs. Gray was not pressed, and Hopper was found guilty and sentenced to two years on the roads. An appeal to the Supreme Court was taken, resulting in a new trial being granted. The defendants swore out a warrant against Mrs. Gray, and thus she was brought back into the case.

Testimony at this trial was practically the same as introduced in the former trial. Mr. and Mrs. Miss Jennings, neighbors, were witnesses. The household and kitchen furniture, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gray, was insured for $500. The defense put up a strong fight, and was represented by Aydt and Ehringhaus, W. M. Bond and J. Heywood Sawyer, Solicitor Ward held up the State's case alone.

In the case of the State against Grif Jenkins for murder the defendant was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to three years in prison. An appeal was taken, and the case is now before the Supreme Court. Some months ago killed R. J. M. Ellis of about equal age, and a fellow inmate of the county jail, and a fellow inmate of the county jail, and a fellow inmate of the county jail.

Wiley's Contribution to Conservation. St. Paul, Minn., March 15.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, of the Federal Chemistry Department, in a speech to-day before the Minnesota Conservation Congress, said that his contribution to the conservation of human life, especially the lives of children under five years of age, of which so many died from the use of food and because of the administration of impure foods.

ECZEMA VICTIM GAVE UP HOPE

After Suffering a Year with Raw, Watery Humor on Hands and Face—Prescriptions Did Not Do a Bit of Good—Scratched Till Blood Came and Had to Quit Work.

COMPLETELY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with eczema for one year and had two of the best doctors in town, but their medicine did not help me. First of all there were small white pimples on my left hand and arm, and then they became raw and itched so much that I scratched till the blood came and I had to quit work. Then they would puff up and water would run out. Wherever this water would run there would be a sore. I tried all kinds of ointments and lotions, but they would not help me. I was unable to raise my arm for two weeks. It became so bad that I was obliged to give up work. About a week ago I started using Cuticura Soap and the doctor told me to get ointment and soap. I used them for a month and they didn't do me any good. Then I tried Cuticura Remedies. He gave me three different kinds of medicines, but I was very much put out when these remedies did not help me. I was unable to sleep at night and I gave up all hope until I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and three bottles of Cuticura Remedy. I am glad to say I am cured. Miss Nora Shultz, 242 North Third St., Reading, Pa., Jan. 4 and 7, 1909."

Huntingdon, Pa., March 15.—Incendiarism ran wild in this city early to-day. At 1:30 o'clock fires were started almost simultaneously in every section of the city. The Huntingdon Fire Department was unable to cope with the fierce attack of the firebugs, and assistance was secured from Lewistown and Tyrone.

The result of the fires is the total loss of the First Methodist Church, the Central Planning Mill Company's plant, J. S. Bare's planing mill, several private residences and the partial destruction of the First Presbyterian Church. The losses are estimated at $200,000.

Mrs. James Miller, a widow and an invalid, whose residence was destroyed, died after being removed from her bed.

The Central Planning Mill plant, owned by W. J. O'Mara, on Fifth Street, which faced the First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches, was the first to be attacked by the incendiaries. The fire broke out in the planing mill. The fire broke out in the planing mill. The fire broke out in the planing mill.

CRUISER ORDERED TO AFRICAN COAST

Action Taken by State Department at Request of Liberian Government.

Washington, March 15.—The United States cruiser Birmingham, Captain Fletcher, has been ordered to proceed forthwith to Monrovia, Liberia, on the northwest coast of Africa. This action is taken upon the urgent request of the government of Liberia, which has represented to the State Department that it was powerless to hold in check the rebellious tribes now in revolt against them.

It appears that the tribes of Orbes, a powerful people, inhabiting the region of the Abally River, adjoining French territory to the southeast of Liberia, have rebelled against the Liberian government, and are besieging the town of Harper, at Cape Palmas, where there are considerable American missionary interests. The object of the insurrection seems to be to force the Liberian government to purchase peace. The Liberian government requested through the American legation that the United States send a naval force to the coast, to add prestige to its efforts to regain and assert its authority over the disaffected natives.

At the outbreak of 1862 Liberia contended upon the government of the United States the right to intervene on their request in such affairs.

TAFT PLEADS FOR HARMONY IN PARTY

strength, but because they are right. And if they are right the people will find them to be right, and that's the best policy in the end."

The President referred to the measures he hoped Congress would adopt at this session in the following order: The bill, the Interstate Commerce Commission law, the bill for postal savings banks, the anti-injunction bill, the statehood bill and the conservation bill.

President Taft received a noisy greeting when he arrived in Rochester at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The streets from the station to the New York Central, where he detained, to the Seneca Hotel, were crowded with a cheering throng. The President seemed deeply to appreciate the demonstrative welcome. Escorted by companies of the militia and naval reserves, he rode in a flower-decked automobile.

After a brief rest, he made a brief address to the crowds in the lobby.

Not an Easy Job. After referring to the fact that the last time he was in Rochester he was a candidate for office, the President said:

"Since that time I have been elected your President, and if any one here thinks it is an easy job, let him try it. It is not easy to get there, my friends, and not easy after you get there."

The President spoke feelingly of the death recently of Representative Perkins of Chicago at 11 o'clock last night. President Taft did not arise until after his train had passed through Cleveland this morning. In response to telegraphic requests, he appeared on the rear of his car and made brief speeches at Ashtabula, Ohio; Erie, Northwest, Dunkirk and Batavia.

FIGHT IN HOUSE STOPS INQUIRY

Hearing in Ballinger-Pinchot Controversy Goes Over for a Day.

Washington, March 15.—The fight on the rules in the House had the effect of preventing the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee from holding its scheduled hearing to-day. The absence of a quorum, for which House members were responsible, caused Chairman Nelson to announce an adjournment until 10 o'clock to-morrow, after the majority of the House members had cooled their heels in the chairman's room for more than half an hour waiting for some of the militant representatives to show up.

With a singular devotion to duty that challenges admiration, Representative Madison, of Kansas, the "insurgent" member, dragged his weary feet from the House end of the Capitol over to the Senate Office Building, and poked his head into the room where the committee was in conference with the lawyers just as both had given up hope of securing a quorum.

"I haven't had any sleep, but I guess I can stay a little while," announced Mr. Madison.

After a further conference it was decided that inasmuch as it would be practically impossible for Mr. Madison to remain in the hearing, an adjournment until to-morrow would be advisable. Chairman Nelson called the committee together, however, and admitted into evidence several documents which the committee asked Chief Engineer Davis of the reclamation service, to furnish. He then announced the adjournment.

Spectators Disappointed. The hearing room was well filled with women, as usual, and they appeared much disappointed. For well of the reclamation service, with present, ready to go on the stand. He will be the witness before the committee to-morrow and probably one day next week. An effort probably will be made to have the committee sit for three days next week.

Ponto-A-Pitre, March 15.—The arrest to-day at La Capesterre of several persons charged with complicity in the rioting during the recent strike of sugar cane cutters, resulted in a collision between the troops and the populace, and in the United States, were killed and several wounded.

Remarkable Christmas Present. Among the curious Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making.

Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to take up every item in America, and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this special man.

The history ends just after election, and the 20,642 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 3,200 great sheets of Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,852.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.

There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle, New York," will reach him with no delay.
